Yoga Is 'No Ego' in Practice, our divine destiny ~

In this context it is hoped to show the complete negative value of Propaganda, the reasons why it is used so fully and who it benefits and why. From the description of the Human Spirit it shows that Propaganda in fact isolates, alienates us from our own Self ~ Realisation and from the Consciousness that we are a part of this Cosmic energy; which is alive in everything, in the Natural Union 'Yoga' ~ of Life and reality. This Knowledge through Wisdom helps us realise the True value of Life and the untruth of the Negative values described in 'Propaganda'. How are we to become connected to this wise human sense of Our Universal Omnipresent Self within the greedy Globalised perspectives of today? This is the future with No fears. It's seen in meditation, poetry, Free Will, Creativity, mystical vision ~ deep wisdom and Love; not Propaganda, of fascism, separation, racism, fundamentalism, of corrupted despots, greedy politicians, business, media, advertising moguls, MIC. Militarists and in the Terrorism of extremists! This development of suffering & Ignorant manipulation of our 'Humanity' is an attack on All our Spiritual realisations ~ moments of Reality which for all of us are essentially changing, always flowing on ~ Our ego is not truly in Control of it. Surrender, transcend and Free the finite Mind to the boundlessness. Don't get Attached to, but be Immersed within the Cosmic Stream ~ the timeless space, emptiness, silence, with the Source, not projections of the ego's light. Walk the pathless, true path until inside you become blissful Ocean, Sat Chit Anand, Nibbana innocence, love, infinite life ~

'Pure Light ~ Cosmic Sweet Heart

We've All Got Stars Inside'

'ALL THINGS ARE CONNECTED WHATEVER
BEFALLS THE EARTH ~ BEFALLS THE SONS AND DAUGHTERS, ALL LIFE ON THE EARTH'

The Great Chief in Washington sends word that he wishes to buy our land. The Great Chief also sends us words of friendship and good will. This is kind of him.

Since we know he has little need of our friendship in return. But we will consider your offer, for we know if we do not do so, the white man may come with guns and take our land.

What Chief Sealth says, the Great Chief in Washington can count on as truly as our white brothers can count on the return of the seasons. My words are like the stars, they do not set.

How can you buy or sell the sky?

The warmth of the land?

The idea is strange to us.

*Yet we do not own the freshness of the air
or the sparkle of the water.*

How can you buy them from us? We will decide in our time.

Every part of this Earth is sacred to my people.

Every shining pine needle, every sandy shore, every mist in the dark woods, every clearing and humming insect is holy in the memory and experience of my people.

We know that the white man does not understand our ways.

*One portion of the land is the same to him as the next,
for he is a stranger who comes in the night
and takes from the land whatever he needs.*

The earth is not his brother, but his enemy, and when he has conquered it, he moves on. He leaves his fathers' graves, and his children's birthright is forgotten.

The sight of your cities pains the eyes of the Redman.

*But perhaps it is because the Redman is a savage and does not understand. There is no quiet place in the white man's cities.
No place to hear the leaves of spring or the rustle of insects' wings.*

But perhaps because I am a savage and do not understand ~ the clatter only seems to insult the ears. And what is there to life if a man cannot hear the lovely cry of a hippoorwill or the arguments of frogs around a pond at night? The Indian prefers the soft sound of the wind darting over the face of the pond,

*and the smell of the wind itself cleansed by a mid-day rain, or scented with a Pinon pine. The air is precious to the Redman.
For all things share the same breath; the beasts, the trees, the man.*

*The white man does not seem to notice the air he breathes ~
Like a man dying for many days, he is numb to the stench.*

If I decide to accept, I, will make one condition.

*The white man must treat the beasts of this land as his brothers.
I am a savage and I do not understand any other way. I have seen a thousand rotting buffalo bodies left by the white man who shot them from a passing train. I am a savage and I do not understand how the smoking iron horse can be more important than the buffalo, that we kill only to stay alive. What is man without the beasts?*

If all the beasts were gone, men would die from great loneliness of spirit, for whatever happens to the beast also happens to man.

All things are connected. Whatever befalls the earth befalls the sons and daughters of the earth. Our children have seen their fathers humbled in defeat. Our warriors have felt shame.

And after defeat, they turn their days to idleness and contaminate their bodies with sweet food and strong drink. It matters little where we pass the rest of our days they are not many.

A few more hours, a few more winters, and none of the children of the great tribes that once lived on this earth, or that roamed in small bands in the woods will be left to mourn the graves of a people once as powerful and hopeful as ours.

*One thing we know which the white man may one day discover.
Our God is the same God. You may think now that you own him as you wish to own our land, but you cannot. He is the body of man.*

And his compassion is equal for the Redman and the white.

This earth is precious to Him.

*And to harm the earth is to heap contempt on its Creator.
The whites too shall pass, perhaps sooner than other tribes.
Continue to contaminate your bed, and you will one night suffocate in your own waste. When the buffalo are all slaughtered, the wild horses all tamed, the secret corners of the forest heavy with the scent of many men, and the view of the ripe hills blotted by talking wires, where is the thicket? Gone. Where is the eagle? Gone.
And what is to say goodbye to the swift and the hunt, the end of living and the beginning of survival. We might understand if we knew what it was that the white man dreams, what hopes he describes to his children on long winter nights, what visions he burns into their minds, so they will wish for tomorrow.
But we are savages. The white man's dreams are hidden from us.
And because they are hidden we will go on our own way.
If we agree, it will be to secure our reservation you have promised.
There perhaps we may live out our brief days as we wish.
When the last Redman has vanished from the earth, and the memory is only the shadow of a cloud moving across the prairie, these shores and forests will still hold the spirits of my people, for they love this earth as the new born loves its mother's heartbeat. If we sell you our land, love it as we have loved it.
Care for it as we have cared for it. Hold in your mind the memory of the land, as it is when you take it. And with all your strength, with all your might, and with all your heart preserve it for your children, and love it as God loves us all. One thing we know ~ our God is the same. The earth is precious to Him.
Even the white man cannot be exempt from the common destiny.*

Essence of this Subliminal Reality

As a personage we are being kept in a Matrix-setting!

Thinking is, mental movement, difficult to witness ~ feel, observing your inner-self, being its intrinsic state.

Do you believe in sub-Conscious energy or not ~ higher human frequency states in a smart jungle?

'Silent weapons for a quiet War'

"I'm here now, so what to do?"

Deja-vu of a self's destruction.

Everyone has their dreams ~

"Stick the lips on darling"

They jam it all out ~
