She sent Shivas down my Spine

'She began to talk of her experiences in roaming about the world. When she talked about her wanderings she seemed to paint them: everything she described remained in my head like finished canvases by a master. We began by talking about China and the Chinese language which she had begun to study. Soon we were in North Africa, in the desert among peoples I had never heard of before. And then suddenly she was all alone, walking beside a river and the light was intense and I was following her as best I could in the blinding sun, but she got lost and I found myself wandering about in a strange land listening to a language I had never heard before. She is an artist of some sort because nobody has ever given me as she did the ambiance of a world of light such as I had never dreamed of and never hoped to see.'

'In 2017 there are five men who collectively own as much wealth as the poorest half of the global population, new research from Forbes shows.

As Oxfam before, it warns that the gap between the super-rich and the very poor keeps on widening every year. In 2016, it was the world's 62 richest people whose combined wealth equated that of the poorest 3.6 billion on the planet. 'The net worth of the Rothschild family has been estimated at anywhere between $US 1 trillion and $US100 trillion. They are thought to control the Bank of England, the European Central Bank, the Federal Reserve, the World Bank, International Monetary Fund and Bank of International Settlements. They own most of the world's gold and the London Gold Exchange'. They and their cronies apparently own the rest of the World's wealth. (The Paradise Papers on Tax havens).

Mysticism

Mysticism from the Greek ~ (muo, 'concealed') is the pursuit of achieving communion or identity with, or conscious awareness of, ultimate reality, the divine, spiritual truth, or God through direct experience, intuition, or insight; and the belief that such experience is an important source of knowledge or understanding. It may involve a belief in the existence of realities beyond immediate perceptual apprehension, or a belief that true perception of the world goes beyond intellectual apprehension, or that 'beingness' is central to all perception.

Mystics generally hold that there is a deeper, more fundamental state of existence hidden beneath the appearances of the day to day living (which may become, to the mystic, superficial or epiphenomenal).

For the mystic, the hidden state is the focus, and may be perceived in any of various ways - as God, ultimate reality, a universal presence, force or principle, psychological emancipation ~ and be experienced or realised directly. Such experience are spoken of variously, as ecstatic revelation, theosis, direct experience of the divine or of universal principles, nirvana, enlightenment, satori, samadhi, etc

They are sometimes characterised by a fading or loss of self, or a perceived interconnection with all existence, and are often accompanied by feelings of peace, joy or bliss.

Mysticism is usually understood in a religious context, but as William James (1902) points out, mystical experiences may happen to anyone, regardless of religious training or inclinations. Such experiences can occur unbidden and without preparation at any time, and might not be understood as religious experiences at all. They may be interpreted, as artistic, scientific, or other forms of inspiration, or even dismissed as psychological disturbances.

With that in mind, the word 'mysticism' is best used to point to conscious and systematic attempts to gain mystical experiences through studies and practice. Techniques include meditation, prayer, asceticism, devotions, the chanting of mantras or holy names, or even intellectual investigation. While mystics are generally members of some religious denomination, they typically go beyond specific religious perspectives or dogmas in their teachings, espousing an inclusive and universal perspective that rises above sectarian differences.

James points out that a mystical experience displays the world through a different lens than is present in ordinary experience.

The experience, in his words, is "ineffable" and "noetic"; placed beyond descriptive abilities of language.

While there is debate over what this implies ~ whether, in fact, the experience actually transcends the phenomenal or material world of ordinary perception, or rather transcends the capacities of perception to bring the phenomenal and material world into full view. Mystics focus on the experience itself, and are rarely concerned with ontological discussions'. ~ from Wikipedia, the free encyclopaedia.

Half of US believes Hussein had WMD.

by C. J Hanley, Associated Press.

*Poll finds myth endures despite debunking;
many blame talk radio, blogs, White House.*

“Do you believe in Iraqi WMD?” Did Saddam Hussein’s government have weapons of mass destruction in 2003?

Half of America apparently still thinks so, a new poll finds, and experts see many reasons why: a drumbeat of voices from talk radio to die-hard bloggers to the Oval Office, a surprise headline here or there, a rallying around a partisan flag, and a growing need for people, in their own minds, to justify the war in Iraq.

People tend to become “independent of reality” in these circumstances, says opinion analyst Steven Kull.

The reality in this case is that after a 16 month, $900-million plus investigation, the U.S. weapons hunters, known as the Iraq Survey Group, declared that Iraq had dismantled its chemical, biological and nuclear arms programs in 1991 under U.N. oversight.

That finding in 2004 reaffirmed the work of U.N. inspectors, who in 2002/03 found no trace of banned arsenals in Iraq.

*Despite this a Harris Poll released July 21 found that a full 50% of US. respondents up from 36% last year, said they believe Iraq did have the forbidden arms when U.S troops invaded in March 2003, an attack whose stated purpose was elimination of supposed WMD.
Other polls have found an enduring American faith in the WMD story.*

Timing may explain some of the poll result. Two Republican Law - makers, Pennsylvania’s Sen. Rick Santorum and Michigan’s Rep. Peter Hoekstra, released an intelligence report saying 500 chemical munitions had been collected in Iraq since the 2003 Invasion.

“I think the Harris Poll was measuring people’s surprise at hearing this after being told for so long there were no WMD. in the country” said Hoekstra spokesman Jamal Ware.

But the Pentagon and outside experts stressed that these abandoned shells were 15 years old or more, their chemical contents were degraded, and they were unusable as artillery ordnance. Since the 1990s, such “orphan” munitions, from among 160,000 made by Iraq and destroyed, have turned up on old battlefields and elsewhere in Iraq, ex-inspectors say.

In other words, this is no surprise.

“These are not stockpiles of weapons of mass destruction.” said Scott Ritter, ex-Marine who was a U.N. inspector in the 1990s.

“They weren’t deliberately withheld from inspectors by the Iraqis” Conservative commentator D. Murdock, who trumpeted Hoeksta’s announcement in his syndicated column, complained in an interview that the press “didn’t give the story the play it deserved” but in some quarters it was headlined. “Our top story tonight, the nation abuzz today” Was how Fox news led its report on the old, stray shells. Talk-radio hosts and their callers seized on it. Feedback to blogs grew intense. Kull and others see an influence of opinion that’s more sustained than the odd headline. “The basic dynamic is in the insistent repetition by the Bush administration of the original argument” said John Prados, author of the 2004 book, “Hoodwinked:

The documents that Reveal how Bush Sold Us a War.” Administration statements still describe Hussein’s Iraq as a threat. Despite the official findings, Secretary of State, Condoleezza Rice has allowed only that “perhaps”, WMD. weren’t in Iraq. And Bush himself, since 2003, has repeatedly insisted on one plainly false point: that Hussein rebuffed the U.N. inspectors in 2002. The facts are that Iraq, after a four year hiatus in cooperating with inspections ~ acceded to the U.N. Security Council’s demand and allowed experts ~ to conduct more than 700 inspections of potential weapons sites from November 27, 2002 to March 16, 2003. The inspectors said they could wrap up their work within months. Instead, a US. invasion aborted that work.

“Naturally, the common people don’t want war, but after all, it is the leaders of the country who determine the policy, and it is always a simple matter to drag people along, whether it is democracy, or a fascist dictatorship, or a parliament, or a communist dictatorship. Voice or no voice, the people can always be brought to the biddings of the leaders. It is easy. All you have to do is tell them they are being attacked, and denounce the pacifist for lack of patriotism and exposing the country to danger. It works the same in every country”.

Hermann Goring, Hitler’s Reich-Marshal at the Nuremberg Trials, after WW11

“Beware the leader who bangs the drums of war in order to whip the citizenry into a patriotic fervour, for patriotism is indeed a double-edged sword. It both emboldens the blood, just as it narrows the mind. And when the drums of war have reached a fever pitch and the blood boils with hate and the mind has closed, the leader will have no need in seizing the rights of the citizenry. Rather, the citizenry, infused with fear and blinded by patriotism, will offer up all of their rights unto the leader and gladly so.

How do I know? For this is what I have done.

And I am Caesar.” (Julius Caesar)

"The term Schizoid refers to an individual, the totality of whose experience is split in two main ways: in the first place there's a rent in his relation with his world and the second, there's a disruption of his relation with himself. Such a person is not able to experience himself together with others or at home in the world, but on the contrary he experiences himself in despairing aloneness and isolation; moreover he does not experience himself as a complete person but rather as 'Split' in various ways, perhaps as a Mind more or less tenuously linked to a body, as two or more selves and so on."

'New Classification of Drugs Table.'

Being Aware of Illusion (Maya Mind). Everything is a Meditation...

'The House of Commons Science and Technology Select Committee Condemns the existing illegal drug classification system, saying it's based on 'ad hockery and conservatism' and should be scrapped.

It proposes replacing it with a whole new scale that would rate substances purely on the basis of health and social risks involved in taking them. Systems now don't tell us how dangerous or not ~ the drugs actually are. "The present approach owes more to Fear than to reason." It would also make it more immune from cynical

Political grandstanding. Britain's antiquated drugs' laws stand accused of failing millions of people because they bear little or no relationship to the harm caused by everything from a hit of heroin, to a seemingly harmless pint of lager. The Home Office has been advised by its own senior advisers that alcohol and tobacco are more harmful than the class A drugs of LSD and Ecstasy.

"This shows why we need a radical overhaul of the current classifications which are riddled with anomalies and clearly not fit for purpose." Copies of the report have been submitted to the Home Office which has failed to act on the conclusions'. Obviously.

Politics to Control the Individual, people's potential to be more Consciously Aware and live together, sharing different values, perceptions? "As the person who's taken LSD. for the longest period are there any physical side effects?" "None, you lose synapses, of which you have trillions." This table finally helps clarify the brain-washing on what is happening to our human rights! Senior Government advisors warned that Alcohol and tobacco are more dangerous to the Nation's health than Class A drugs, LSD and Ecstasy. However one drop of Acid is NOT less, than having two Vodka cocktails or smoking a pack of 'American Spirit' my friend. Be Aware that LSD. 25 has the Potential to open windows into different multidimensions and to take you to places you cannot imagine. As DMT; it is a Super powerful Catalyst and has to be treated with Love, Full Respect. If taken well, Consciously, no overdosing, there should be amazing, real Insights. People 'trip' each day in these ever changing fields of Psychedelia. The drug like everything else is manifesting through your own Mind. How is Your Mind, this Matrix? Drugs are only a guide, You are Self Realisation ~ Celebrations not Obsessions! No Abusing, don't flip, burn-out, crash-out; with any 'come down', keep the clear harmonic. Tuning naturally and Trust your inner Meditation to guide your light.*

*Shamans have been guiding us here into these fantastic worlds of Spirit but the Authorities have continuously demonized this activity. They obviously now don't speak for the Potential of this little, 'OM' 'Shiva' or 'Dr. Hoffman'. 'The Cosmic Serpent', by Jeremy Narby; and Carlos Casteneda, Ken Kesey, Fritjof Capra, and many more, have Courageously led us into these other Physics/Psychic/ Magic alternative 'dimensions'. Your Heart and Mind will reflect the drug like a mirror. It's certainly Not ready for everyone, especially when Governments continue their 'Inquisition' and Oppression of those who wish to go into these realms of discovery. To experience fully freely a Psyche*Odyssey, discovering where/who they are in this Cosmos and on this Natural Planet, in these sacred relationships. But these 'Controlling' forces continue their criminalised negativity, the repression, their Paranoia and help create these victims of the 'War on Drugs'. This Table is misleading, not giving a Real Sense; its amazing potential to go into/beyond your own Outer/Inner limits. But, says "a 'bad trip' can cause anxiety." What about a good trip? Can that be a catalyst and point you to your Divine Self-Realisation, to your Illumination and Liberation? There is more in this drop than they say or want you to know about, Mind-control and human power. Going Into the other realms of Tao, Synchronicity, Meditation, natural Transcendence of your Mind/Ego. This embraces and enhances your Cosmic reality and can take you to the stars * It can also lead some to doors of Addiction, Obsession, Fear and 'I' Craving Attachments, which is also the 'Human Condition'. Whether sex, drugs, rock and roll, or this Selfish Mind, being the Dominating Dictator, it depends on 'You'. You take Your Full Responsibility. You Open your own doors but do it Consciously, No Ego, Happily, Freely with the Full respect, confidence, grace and humble gratitude of a Shamanic ~ Spiritual quest; Not Coercive 'Conditioning' and Ego-Identification. Be Non-Attached, keep your Inner Prayer ~ Mantra in Your Clear, true heart; be equanimous. Know, let it go, flow with boundlessness.*

In August 2006, the Independent, London, published Professor Nutt's Drug table suggesting Alcohol and tobacco are more harmful than class A drugs, LSD and Ecstasy. This research was done by the House of Common's Science and Technology select committee. Politically It was disregarded by the Government. This farce continues until today, 2017, with Professor Nutt being fired in 2009 for his continued adherence to Scientific evidence. Now we have seen the legalization of marijuana in of all places, Washington state, Colorado etc. and California in January 2018, in the good old USA who were the principal Witchfinders along with their trusted lackey the UK. Government. Their anti-drugs policy was implemented throughout the world while at the same time it has been shown that the USA's, CIA were involved in massive smuggling operations of all drugs, principally Cocaine into the USA in order to buy weapons for their proxy, anti-government guerrilla groups, to destabilise countries that didn't toe the American, (for Democratic see Oligarchic) line! See also, 'Confessions of an Economic Hitman' by John Perkins, where he describes this covert economic warfare. The son of Pablo Escobar recently admitted that his father was working for the CIA! And throughout this period (over 50 years) ordinary people who want to get high are victimised on the scale of an Inquisition. This also applied to ill people who wanted to use marijuana to relieve their pain, eg. Multiple sclerosis and they were vehemently denied this humane right on the basis of Political expedience. This is disgusting and even though this situation has been aired in the subordinate media it has predominantly been demonized, marginalised and the people who are shining the light of truth on Conspiracies, as always have been ruined and imprisoned. WHY? Now medical marijuana/oil is legalized around the world/online from Canada to Australia. It's recently been allowed recreationally in Catalonia and today of all places Las Vegas, Nevada, USA! There is the realisation of an economic bonanza ready for harvesting and this cynically as usual is the main motivation for political change. Try and figure that out! Yet the UK still will not accept the reality of the scientific evidence so has continued the persecution of people for smoking weed

It is another sign of outrageous prosecution by despotic, plutocratic non-democratic, psychological warfare on people, and this class of dictator who are given the privilege, responsibility and power to serve 'people', are instead sociopathic, paranoid, egotistic, deranged, criminal maniacs and ignorantly motivated by personal profit. This is now obvious, and we should witness these real contradictions. We have to become conscious of a Orwellian matrix all around us! The hidden power of Conglomerates has to be exposed for the reinstatement of truth and our human Liberty. Since the 1960's with the Hippie and cultural, social, anti-war revolution, Governments continued to repress, oppress and brain-wash its people. This is an obvious and deliberate stance maintaining an elite status-quo economically and to expand an agenda of the NWO, Globalist, fascists. Imperialism, warmongering, insane inequalities are perpetuated again. There is information on every aspect of this brain-washing Matrix on the internet today. Crypto-Government-Corporate cabals are the ones who perpetrate and perpetuate these scenarios to maintain their Elite power! Just as in the time of Galileo who observed that the Earth, in fact orbited the Sun and not the other way round; the holy Pope made him 'recant' his scientific evidence for purposes of the church's religious power. It is no different today and we are still the victims. Prohibition one day and the next a miracle cure! Money and Power the bottom line. "There are more than 60,000 transnational corporations in the world. More than 50 of the largest one-hundred economies in the world are corporations. Transnational corporations hold ninety percent of all technology and product patents worldwide. Transnational corporations are involved in 70 percent of world trade. The top 737 of these super-corporations or 'super-entities' control 80% of the world economy. The top 147 super-corporations or 'super-entities' control 40% of the global economy through direct and indirect ownership or controlling interest. Hundreds of companies own the stocks and bonds of each other - they collectively own themselves. Hence, it becomes nearly impossible to trace the roots of ownership and control. From relative obscurity, they wield enormous control of national and global economies" Swiss Fed Institute Tech,2011

Goa: 'Happier here than anywhere else'

Enforcing the Human Rights of Girls

'Bride kidnapping, also known as marriage by abduction or marriage by capture, is a practice in which a man abducts the woman he wishes to marry. Bride kidnapping has been practiced around the world and throughout history. It continues to occur in countries in Central Asia, Caucasus region, and parts of Africa, and among peoples as diverse as the Hmong in Southeast Asia, the Tzeltal in Mexico, Despite its illegality, in many primarily rural areas, bride kidnapping, known as alakachuu (to take and flee), is an accepted, common way of taking a wife. Approximately half of all Kyrgyz marriages include bride kidnapping, of those kidnappings, two thirds are non-consensual. Research by NGO's give estimates from a low of 40% to between 68 and 75 percent of all marriages in Kyrgyzstan involved bride kidnapping'. Wikipedia.

'Judges releasing two suspects in the death of Scarlet Keating'. Guardian, London, 23/09/2016

One thing of many I remember from this, is that as a member of the Goa tribal-family living in Anjuna for many years, in my naïve, 'everyone's nice and high bubble', I was really shocked to know that there were/are (male) Predators lurking out there, amidst us stoned hippies, searching for an easy (female)victim (after an all-night party). They are now mobile, in fast contact and know that they can get away with it, as statistics on rape (or as they say in India, 'offending the girl's modesty') prove. Most rapes go unsolved (this is true in other countries) and I know the threat is still very prevalent in Goa, as the stories since suggest. Violent crime has escalated since that moment. They are cruising around, wired up and capable of anything! A major turning point for us all. When my teenage daughter came, over the next two years I was concerned if she was out at night, especially as she is open and trusting, as we mostly are to other people and to what they say, ask, in our 'Goa Paradise'. I was at least calmed down, that she had a mobile phone and hopefully aware enough not to get spiked, but there is always a vulnerable one! I know for the children on the beach, who live in Anjuna there is mainly a system of parental monitoring but we are in Goa to enjoy Freedom too and that is a delicate balance of forces which now has been undermined. A similar story of drunken teenagers (Predators) in Delhi 16/12/2012 gang raping an Indian girl on a bus, all premeditated and encouraged by their frustrated 'Eve teasing' vibe. These males feel invulnerable in an otherwise closed culture! Unlike in Goa they were swiftly caught! In Scarlett's case the degree of corruption was incredible and the panic to offset the blame outside (onto her mother) was monstrous. It was well organised to preserve the clean image of tourism in Goa and so protect whoever was really responsible; whoever they were!

At least the authorities have learnt something, that with today's Global communications it is now harder to control the reactions of the press etc. Goa's image suffered and has never recovered, that is a price local people are still paying. Hopefully it made us all more aware so that crimes like this wherever they happen will be dealt with, prevented in the future and the society will let it be known in their own way that such behaviour will not be allowed.

*And without sounding patronising; that young girls need our protection not our indifference. Knowing that this innocent girl's murderers escaped 'Justice' is sickening for us all and we can only hope that India's view, that Karma is the ultimate justice will prevail and all those guilty will one day meet Kali! My deepest sympathy goes to her mother and family * Om Shanti Shanti*
