Paraphrased from 'Guardian' 2/7/2012; James Moore/Outlook
'Justice' was severe and swift for those who rioted in London, summer 2011 but those who burned the British economy and the financial markets by reckless gambling or by trying to rig the Libor interest rates are likely to escape a similar fate.

Serious fraud squad has a mixed record in securing convictions even in cases that can be effectively pursued against Barclays traders. The Financial services Authority and its successor the Financial Conduct Authority might get round to handing out bans and fines but it's uncertain. It has lost people's respect. Politicians are calling for a public enquiry. It needs a thorough review of the legal framework of this type of white collar crime. British Banking regulators are not feared they're looked upon as 'stupid' by 'city folk' who spend their time coming up with schemes around them knowing if they get caught the sanctions they face will be limited and they'll get paid off. There is no Extraordinary Rendition, the US might possibly use their lopsided extradition treaty to prosecute these Global predators.'

Today the cases are too numerous, from our Major banks, criminal Pharmaceutical companies, Insurance companies, MP's Expenses scandals, but rioters still get 6 months for stealing a loaf of bread! Does anyone have the slightest confidence in this corrupt system?

"Abuse ~ Is the nature of the beast!"

Lest We All Forget ~ What Is Right & Wrong

Ref: Assange: The UK has under much criticism stuck to the INTERNATIONAL HUMAN RIGHTS LAW of not deporting political/asylum refugees some from very dubious backgrounds back to their home countries if it was shown their lives might be endangered or they would be tortured. The case of General Augusto Pinochet alleged Criminal Against Humanity being released back to Chile on very uncertain health grounds also shows that the UK government does what it wants and ab/uses the definition of 'The Law' to justify its actions. However when a genuine human rights campaigner is threatened with the same outcome they're happy to use this same 'Law' of the Inquisitor to its maximum to suit its obviously fascist tendencies, national interests by NOT guaranteeing that this Prisoner of Political Conscience is not delivered into the hands of a hateful avenger. Is this another case of hypocrisy for us all to see!/? Bravo to the Equadorean people and Government for standing up to these Global Powers and to protect the rights of the people exposing unjust and inhumane actions by secret governments and giving us the information so we may 'Know' at their great personal risk. This courage must be praised and supported by people around the world who demand to be told the truth. Aung san suu kyι said "One Political Prisoner of Conscience is one too many"

GlaxoSmithKline; 'bribed doctors' Guardian 2/7/2012

GSK the UK's largest drug maker, tricked and bribed doctors into prescribing children with dangerous antidepressants.

The company will pay $3 billion to settle a slew of charges in the US after admitting a multi-year criminal scheme to hide unhelpful scientific evidence, manipulate articles in medical journals and lavish gifts on sympathetic doctors. The drug at the centre of the scheme, the blockbuster pill Paxil; Seroxat in UK has since been banned for use by children because it can make them suicidal.

Company managers all the way to GSK's CEO, will have their pay and bonuses clawed back if there is any further wrongdoing, under the terms of a wide-ranging settlement with Department of Justice.

GSK. admitted illegally marketing several of its drugs for uses that had not been approved by safety regulators and documents released detailed luxurious conferences in exotic climes where paid-for scientific speakers hyped conclusions of dubious academic papers.

GSK held eight Paxil forum events in California, Puerto Rico and Hawaii where hundreds of doctors were treated to sailing, diving, horse riding, deep sea fishing, balloon rides and spa treatments & given $750 in cash, an 'honorarium'. Paxil once GSK's best-selling drug was never approved for use by children. The settlement of $1billion in criminal fines, $2 billion in civil penalties also resolved claims that GSK billed government-run health care plans too much for many drugs. The infractions: The company pleaded guilty to criminal charges related to the marketing of Paxil for use by children between 1999 and 2003 when it failed to reveal the existence of two scientific studies that showed the drug was ineffective in treating childhood depression; cut out important caveats and over hyped the conclusions of a third study.

"Parents who forced their British daughter to live by the moral standards of 'rural Pakistan' were jailed for life for her murder. Their fear of being shamed in the eyes of their community was greater than their love for their daughter. Shafilea Ahmed 17 was suffocated at her home in a so called 'honour killing' after her Pakistani born parents stuffed a plastic bag into her mouth in front of their other four children. She was killed after refusing their attempts to force her into an arranged marriage. The murder followed years of abuse. It took 9 years for the case to come to justice after the Police faced a wall of silence both within the family and community. They were only convicted after Shafilea's sister Alesha now 22 gave evidence against her parents in court. Sentencing them to serve at least 25 years in prison the judge said the couple's expectation that she live in a sealed cultural environment separate from the culture of the country in which she lived was unrealistic, destructive and cruel" "You wanted your family to live in Pakistan in Warrington" and 'blighting the lives' of their other children"

Karma Nirvana: 0800 5999 247: www.karmanirvana.org.uk

'Honour crimes are on the increase, The Karma Nirvana helpline receives more than 600 calls a month from British women & girls. Victims are taught never to bring shame on their families and it is their duty to obey because of religion or tradition. Recent research suggests that attitudes are still entrenched. More than two-thirds of young Asians in Britain agree families should live by the concept of 'honour' or 'izzat'. One fifth of those believe physical punishment is appropriate for those who bring dishonour. The police record 2800 honour crimes each year in the UK but the real figure is probably much higher. Where was the outcry from Shafilea's community? There is no honour in murder or forcing your child to live in fear'

'Guwahati, Assam'. Guardian p14. 16/7/2012

'Indians have expressed horror at video footage of a teenage girl being sexually assaulted by a laughing mob of more than twelve men in a busy street outside a bar in NE India. No one intervened for up to 45 minutes during the attack which was filmed by an off duty journalist and a cameraman from News-Live channel. The footage was broadcast on news channels prompting a debate on women's safety in India and asked why the journalists didn't intervene. Police have been criticized over their initial indifference towards the attack which took place just minutes from the nearest Police station!

The attack has highlighted the dangers of being a woman in India. A global poll last month voted India the worst G20 country for women, behind even Saudi Arabia. India's national commission for women said the teenage victim had been treated like an animal and had cigarette burns all over her body'
This is another example of the grotesque treatment of women. A woman executed by the Taliban for adultery, put on internet! There's long lists of inhumane treatment of women, of so called 'honor killings' to forced marriages of teenage girls in Pakistan to the Qatif girl who was gang raped but ordered by a court in Saudia Arabia to be given 200 lashes for the crime of 'mingling'
A Christian girl was framed by a Moslem imam for burning pages of the Koran for which the penalty is death! Even more barbaric examples are the mass raping of Moslem women, estimated to be 20,000, as a militarily condoned 'objective' during the horrendous 1990's fascist war in Bosnia and the sex slave and torture prisons!

Headlines: Another massacre of civilians including children, taken off the bus in Houla, Syria, shot dead ~ as seen on TV!
'So little can be done against the carnage' an eye witness said.
A new massacre, 13 workers found, ashes in a fertiliser factory.

This Is My Body ~ My Tantric Temple ~ 'Ignorance Is Violence!'

This book is dedicated to all women who have suffered sexual violence, aggression, threat, intimidation, torture and atrocity!

'An estimated 20,000 Bosnian Muslim women were raped and used as sex slaves' ~ 'Rape was/is being used as a weapon of war'
These men are using their primal instincts to behave in bestial ways. Their need to prove their Power and dominance is taking over any humanity they have and inflicting catastrophic trauma on women and their families. Hierarchical, closed, feudal, warring, corrupted cultures where a patriarchal system is sustained allowing for male superiority yet not allowing them the freedom to treat women as equal in any loving way. The laws & customs of misogynic societies condone exploitation of women (and children) allowing males the right to commit such horrendous crimes. Natural powers of sexual attraction, of desire, of lust, unless the energies are channeled in a free, mutually loving way where 'The Greatest Pleasure Is to Give Pleasure' they become frustrated, angry, perverted and diabolical without any respect! Freedom is to give and receive ~ Happiness. Where these feelings of consensual love are freely shared the acts of sex are able to give the couple a heightened awareness of bliss. Where these feelings are not expressed but repressed, suppressed, oppressed, depressed, the disconnect from reality brings psychosis. Passion flows openly with Consciousness, being Unconditional Love.

'Eve-Teasing to War Booty!' 'Protect The Girls Now!' 16/12/2012

'A young student was gang raped & tortured by six men, thrown from a moving bus & dumped naked on the streets of New Delhi.

She was so badly beaten with an iron bar her intestines had to be removed. She remained in a critical condition in a coma due to the trauma and serious injuries; Severe Organ Failure to her body and brain. Jyoti Singh Pandey died from cardiac arrest, from swelling in the brain and infections she could not overcome.'

Now is the time for Change to Protect our most basic human rights

ABOUT SUNNY JETSUN

Inspired by the sixties Sunny started traveling the world in 1970. His spiritual journey on the hippie trail to India took him through San Francisco, Los Angeles, London, Amsterdam, Paris, Vancouver, Sidney, and Kathmandu to Varanasi. His arrival on the sub-continent was the beginning of writing autobiographical verses capturing his travel experiences, encounters with remarkable people and his quest for self-realization. Combining experimentation with drugs, sex, rock & roll, meditation, Love and life in general. Sunny started to open up to a multi-dimensional Universe. He lived the mantra, "Turn on, tune in, drop out" realising Mind's-illusions, inspired by deeper feelings of holistic nature, empathy, energy & Space.

Over four decades Sunny has written and published 27 books of poetry, created over one hundred paintings, traveled the World and considers his masterpiece to be his daughter. He has spent the past fifteen years in Goa, India inspired by the freedom to experience and idealism of human consciousness.
